

Leek Educational

Designed to free up your staff and take maximum advantage of overseas opportunities.

For the past 25 years I have been working with International Educational Institutions.

Teaching at the University of Natal, Durban, UNISA in Pretoria, and guest lecturing in South Africa, India, Sri Lanka, France and Holland.

Working on British Council projects; in India with Regional Engineering Colleges; and in Sri Lanka with the National Technical Teacher Training College in conjunction with the Ministry for Education.

Negotiating with training companies in South Africa and Singapore; for the delivery of post-graduate programmes.

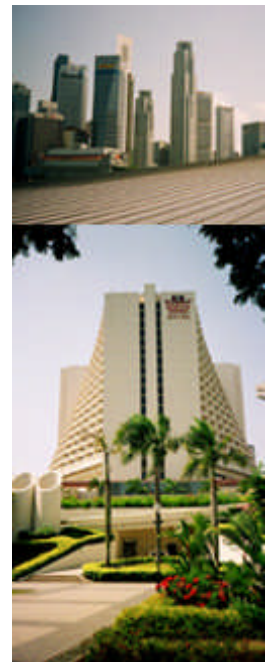

I consider one of my greatest successes the delivery, by flying faculty, of a UK University MSc course in Johannesburg.

The students were all part-time, mature professionals, working in Information Systems or closely related areas.

The course was jointly administered in collaboration with a training company based in Johannesburg.

The particular delivery and flexibility required necessitated a carousel delivery, at two monthly intervals, and required some revalidation of the course.

Student numbers peaked at 125, after the second module delivery, and the carousel delivery meant that students could start and stop to fit their work patterns.

Extensive experience in the International arena; in Education and Commerce.
Available 24/7, for 365 days, Anywhere and Any time.

E-mail: colin@leekeducational.com

Web-site: <http://leekeducational.com/>